EXAMINATIONS TO BE GIVEN OCTOBER 25 FOR MANY STUDENTS

TEACHING APPLICANTS MUST MAKE TESTS

The test covering essential materials in arithmetic, grammar, English usage, factual history, and geography locations, to be taken by students approaching the end of their sophomore year and who are preparing for practice teaching in the kindergarten, elementary, or junior high school grades, has been set for Saturday, October 25, at 8 o'clock.

The faculty decided last year to hold this examination, and the terms and content are set forth in the school bulletin, page 24. All students are advised by the Registrar's Office to read the paragraph relating to this matter.

The following students must take the examination:

All students who are planning to do practice teaching for the first time in the spring and fall of 1931; all high sophomores; all upper classmen who have not as yet done practice teaching in the primary or grammar grades; all transfer students who have not done any regular practice teaching in this institution.

All experienced teachers who have not had a conference with Miss Crumpton concerning the examination should see her before October 25.

Muriel Scherruble In Singing Contest

The winner of the local contest for the Bay Region in the Atwater Kent singing contest, Muriel Scherruble, of the class of December '31, will represent the East Bay in the state Atwater Kent Radio Audition, Monday, October 20, at ten o'clock over station KPO.

The state judges are people who are prominent in music circles. The vote of the judges will count forty per cent, while that of the radio audience will count sixty per cent.

Miss Scherruble is taking the lead in the operetta, "The Pirates of Penzance," which is to be given at a tea in the Fairmont Hotel in November. Supporting her are the college orchestra and chorus.

Petey the Pedagogue Says:

"Avoid that future shadow; reach for a book instead of a date."

College Theatre to Present New Play In Frederic Burk

College theatre members are at present at work on their new play, "The Dover Road," by A. A. Milne, to be given in the Frederic Burk auditorium, October 24.

The cast is as follows: Donald Pryor as Latimer, sophisticated, eccentric, middle-aged philanthropist; Jack Wilson as Nicholas, long-suffering recipient of unwelcome attentions from various ladies in the play; Hazel Dell Adamson as Eustasia, clinging vine; "Bud" Miller as Dominic, grave major-domo-general of "The Staff"; the four house servants: Clementine de Valley as Anne, pretty, self-confident; Bill Connolly as Leonard, big, burly-appearing person.

This enumeration of the characteristics of the characters promises an entertaining play.

DEAN COX URGES FOOTBALL ATTENTION

Although the next football season is one year away, it is necessary for the students to start thinking and paving the way if they intend to have a football team.

According to Dean Cox, it will take all of a year to raise the money and the team; that is the reason for this urgent appeal. He also expresses himself as being willing to coach it if the students want one, but, Dean Cox says, "As I am no mind reader, they must express their opinions about the matter."

The reason that there was no attempt made to produce a team this year is that the extensive activities of the student body will use up all of the money now available, and also that there were not enough men to round out material for a squad of forty football men.

Dean Cox expects that by next fall there will be enough men in the college, but the decision as to whether or not there will be a football team rests entirely with the students.

FACULTY ADVISORS HOLD CONFERENCE

A special meeting of the faculty advisors was held Thursday, October 9. Dean Mary Ward presided. The faculty advisors plan to prepare a bulletin in which will appear the difficulties in advising students. There will be suggestions to assist in the overcoming of the difficulties.

Advising in this college is purely voluntary, and any faculty member who is interested in students may become an advisor. A meeting of the advisory group is held once a semester.

The new handbook for advisors and students was presented at the meeting.

Notice!

The Student Body Book Store wishes to announce the discontinuance of the former five per cent rebate on Book Store purchases. Definite plans will not be known about the distribution of the Co-op's surplus until the close of the semester, when the rebate will probably be put in for a college use.

STUDENT AFFAIRS HAS BUSY SESSION AT SUPPER MEETING

Student body dances, club charters, a Junior Day, the freshman barn dance, poster space, and athletic funds were discussed and acted upon by the Student Affairs Committee at a supper-meeting held in the Students' Activity Room.

A motion was passed allowing each student to bring an extra couple to the student body dances if, at the time of purchasing tickets, the student body card is presented.

The committee also decided that any club wishing to be recognized by the college must submit its constitution at the time of application.

The plans for a Junior Day were submitted by Jacquelyn Beedle, and the Student Affairs Committee voted upon the time as Friday, November 7.

The application of the freshmen to have a barn dance, Friday, October 31, in the gymnasium was granted. Mr. Sherman Brown is the sponsor.

Because a report stating that students are dissatisfied with the amount of poster space in the college, a committee was appointed to investigate and regulate the matter. Marion Donaldson is chairman of the committee. Assisting her are Ciwa Griffiths, Edna Denhard, and Mae Quick. Mr. Frank Ray will act as advisor.

As a stimulus to create a pep song and to revise the school hymn, the Siena Club, the Phi Lamba Chi, the music courses, and the Glee Club are urged to concentrate their energies towards developing the lyrics and music. Two tentative songs have already been presented to the committee.

Dr. P. F. Valentine's committee has been given $333 for men's athletics, plus $170 from the Student Body Fund, which gives $500 for men's athletics for next year.

Dance Club Outlines Semester Plans

Several items of importance were discussed at the last meeting of the Dance club held at the home of their sponsor, Mrs. Sarah Scott, at 1329 Clay street. The constitution of the club was completed and is ready for the approval of the Student Affairs committee.

The women propose to have a Greek letter name for their club instead of the present one. To belong to this organization one must first be nominated by some member; after being nominated, a try-out is held, and the future Pavlowa is put through her paces. The Dance Club Board of Control has appointed the following committee to be the judges: Mrs. Sarah Scott, Del Mylius, Irma Gerske, Dorothy Caswell, "Peg" Carrol, Evelyn Rafter.

The club has a meeting each week for rehearsals. The date has been changed from Monday to Wednesday. The women are already at work on a program which is to be presented some time in December for the California Teachers' Association. A business and social meeting will be held once a month at the homes of the members.

Miss Edla Romander, reference librarian, is preparing clippings and other reference material, which will be of importance to the club.

Delta Sigma Plans November Debate With Varsity Team

Challenging instead of being challenged, the Delta Sigma debating society under Miss Ruth Richards' guidance is planning a tentative debate with either the California or Stanford varsity team, in the early part of November. Plans are also being formulated to hold the debate in the form of an assembly here at State Teachers'.

The question that is being prepared and affirmed by two Delta Sigma squads consisting of four members each is: Resolved, that the pathological treatment of criminals be substituted for our present penal systems.

The California varsity suggests for debate: Resolved, that Europe should be formed into an economic federation; and Resolved, that the present age is becoming too materialistic.

FRESHMEN PICNIC PROVES SUCCESS

On Friday, October 3, the class of December '33 extended a welcome in the form of an indoor picnic to the new students. Novelty suckers tied with colors that distinguished the two classes were given to each student as he entered.

Sophie Davis, who had charge of the picnic, spoke a word of welcome and thereafter introduced Earl Burch, president of the low freshmen, and Marie Regli, president of the high freshmen.

Several numbers of entertainment followed, among which a skit was given by Marjorie Braunbeck. Earl Burch was to award her with a bouquet and was both surprised and embarrassed when he found it to be a beautiful bunch of soup vegetables. Dancing and refreshments concluded the program.

ANNOUNCEMENTS IN BIOLOGICAL SCIENCE

Biological Science 1B, Advanced Zoology, and Biological Science 11B, Advanced Botany, will be given in the spring semester, 1931, but not in the fall semester of 1931.

Advanced Zoology is a continuation of Biological Science 1A. It includes the structure, development, and history of representative forms from the Chordata. Four units will be given for the course. Two hours' lecture and six hours' laboratory will comprise a week's work.

This course is elective and is designed for students majoring in Physical Education or Biological Science. Biological Science 1A must be completed before the course is taken.

Botany 11B is of interest to students who are interested in plants and to Biological Science majors. The course includes the study of algae, fungi, liverworts, mosses and ferns.

Students who expect to register this spring for either of these courses are asked to sign up immediately on one of the slips posted in Anderson Hall, the gymnasium, or on the student body bulletin board.

It is necessary to know the number of students desiring the courses in order that the department may know how much equipment and material to order.

COLLEGE PREXY RECOMMENDS NEW PLANS

NATION CAMPAIGN FOR PEACE ORGANIZED

Last spring, Dr. Alexander C. Roberts presented to the presidents of the California State Teachers' Colleges a resolution asking for some specific training on not merely how to achieve peace, but how to preserve and use it for the benefit of all men. Dr. Roberts recommended that this work, to be successful, should be part of the equipment that every teacher in the teacher training institution gets in the preparation for her profession.

His resolution was heartily approved, and California goes on record as the first state in the Union to incorporate such teaching.

Dr. Augustus O. Thomas, chairman of the World Federation of Educational Association, is asking that a committee, made up of members of the Social Science departments of Teachers' Colleges, prepare some work to be used in all Teachers' Colleges in the United States. Mrs. Bertha Monroe and Mrs. Olive Thompson Cowell will be the two committee members from this college.

P. S. 5A Offered

Mr. Mundt wishes to call attention to the fact that Physical Science 5A, without a laboratory period, will be offered next term.

Physical Science 5B is being given this semester, which is a reversal of the program followed previously.

MAN IS NOT BOSS!

There appeared recently in several of the city papers an article stating that man had "arrived" on the campus. Further on in the article we find the statement that at the next student election the men expect to fill the offices.

Yes, man has "arrived" on the campus, but is he going to displace woman in the governing powers next year? Well, not if we know anything about it.

We accept the challenge, and we would not mind the article at all if it were not for the headline, "Oh, Girls, Man at Last Is Boss of Campus." That is almost more than we can bear, but then we know he is not; so that helps.

TERTIUM QUID

Today, my discussion has to be short and sweet. Naturally, I pick on "our MEN," since most of them are short, while the rest are sweet—according to their own royal highnesses.

Funny thing about those filthy-corded individuals. Somehow, they got the warped idea that they're indispensable around these premises. I wonder why? They're not such wonderful dancers; there's nothing novel about the way they smoke their Old Golds; and you cannot say that they're such a grand collection of heart-breakers. No, that's not it. What, then?

Maybe they think that just because the women number 8 to 1, they necessarily stand ace-high. "Pick of the peaches" idea. But oh! what a mistake! Don't they realize that before they came upon the scene, the girl friends hereabout had a lot of "steadies"? Most of the old B. F's. are going to be held on to, too, because—well, what's the use of giving a tumble to a fellow so top-heavy with conceit that he actually staggers?

Aw, fellows, get on to yourselves. If you really want to be collegiate, go about it right. Don't make us all laugh by putting a lot of bogus publicity in the daily newspapers boasting about the great things you're doing around here. About the way you changed the whole place with your cave-man tactics! Wake up! Do things first; celebrate later.

Try pulling in your chests; stop imagining that the fair sex dashes around through the halls trying to get a look at you.

Another thing; why don't you try acting your age at college assemblies so that the elementary children, for instance, don't think that you just escaped from a Giggling Gertie's Society? If some of you must carry on your private affairs, why don't you keep them private? We know enough as it is. Exhibitions are quite unnecessary.

Very, very sincerely,
TERTIUM.

P. S.—Outside of all this, you're O. K., men. So buck up, for, minus your confounded egotism, you're not so bad.

Mildred: "Let me see that new picture of yours, will you?"

Mildred: "Justice? You need mercy."

T. N. T.

Dear T. N. T.:

Would it be at all possible to install a telephone somewhere in Anderson Hall besides in the echoing place where one is now placed? It is very much of a nuisance to have to go away over to the other building to phone, and more of a nuisance to have to talk in a place where the least whisper vibrates like a brass band.

Yours,
"TE AND TE."

Dear "Te! and Te!"

It would be convenient to have another telephone besides the "whispery" one now used in Anderson Hall; although, for myself, I usually have to procure change from the Book Store before I can use any phone at all. It is startling to hear your own voice's echo before the other person has time to answer. Why not report to the Welfare Committee? Or perhaps the members will read this and act upon the slight hint.

Yours,
T. N. T.

T. N. T.

Dear Sir:

In an editorial in the Bay Leaf of September 17, a request was sent out to our musicians and poets asking them for a rally song.

What has become of our college hymn? Dr. Roberts stresses a phrase or two from it at each commencement exercise. Would it be possible to arrange so that more students of the college might become acquainted with it other than at the time of graduation?

A member of this faculty suggests that frequent assemblies be held in the form of mass rallies out of doors on the campus.

What about it?

M. R. B.

Dear M. R. B.:

Plans are underway to gain a new rally song, and meanwhile it is the hope of those who wish the college hymn to be generally known and sung to reach the student body through the different large clubs. In this way, the clubs are going to teach their members, the singing courses are to learn the hymn and then when it is sung at the rallies, the rest of the student body will be able to follow until everybody knows it. Probably in the near future a rally especially for this purpose will be called, and then it will be up to every person in college to attend and make the revival a success.

Yours,
T. N. T. Editor.

FRANCISCAN FRIERS

"I is," began Pearl Garcia.

"I am," corrected Mrs. Ellsworth.

"I am the ninth letter in the alphabet," continued Pearl.

Miss Pickard: "Can you name the bones of the skull?"

Mrs. Cowell: "Has the row monitor told you what you are to do this afternoon?"

Row: "Yes, wake her, if we see you coming."

Dot Doelker (to Dr. Valentine): "Have you heard the song, 'Betty Co-ed'?"

Dr. Valentine: "Is S. T. C. developing a new college hymn?"

Mrs. Dorris: "Can you tell me one of the uses of cowhide?"

Georganne: "It keeps the cow together."

"Up and atom," cried the molecule.

SPORTS

Hunch Basketball Contest

A great deal of interest has been shown around the school in regards to the hunch basketball contest that is now being held. Many strong teams have signed up and the competition will be very keen. The teams have been divided into four divisions. Each division will play a round robin schedule. One point will be given for a win, and no points for a loss. A schedule for all games will be posted on the bulletin board and in the Bay Leaf.

The winner of each division will play in the semi-finals, the two winning teams will play the finals.

The games start at 12:10 sharp.

Division A: Ashland and Horner; Gemignani and Coughlin; Henry and Bragg; Maine and McGrew; Carson and Iverson.

Division B: Garden and Connolly; St. John and Allee; Mendelson and Krieger; McDumel and Belieu.

Division C: Trager and Fisher; Abry and Gillespie; Browne and Cioffee; Stinchcomb and Springer.

Division D: Murphy and Wemmer; Keller and Kent; Worth and Wilson; Traunberg and Kimura.

Schedule for First Week

Friday, October 17—

NEW SPORT IS WELL RECEIVED

Although field hockey has just been introduced on the campus for the first time this term, much enthusiasm and interest in the game are being displayed. It is entirely new to most of the women. So far, the greater part of the time has been given to learning and perfecting strokes.

According to Miss Katherine Hall, her freshman team has great possibilities, and is improving rapidly. They stand a good chance to be the winners in the W. A. A. tournament, due to the fact that there are several experienced players among them and that the team as a whole is displaying much interest.

S. T. C. Acrobats Give Exhibition

On Tuesday, October 7, Miss Katherine Hall's 11 o'clock class in P. E. 26 gave a tumbling stunt program at the Salvation Army gymnasium, Valencia and McCoppin streets. This activity is in connection with the regular class work. The acrobats have learned fifty single and double stunts as a mid-term requirement. There were groups of fours, each group giving a program consisting of a novel entrance, four single stunts, four double stunts, and an exit stunt.

Visitors are welcome at the programs. Similar exhibitions will be given from time to time during the semester. The next one will probably feature pyramid building.

COLLEGE ORCHESTRA PLAYS FOR DANCE

A college orchestra for all student body activities was sanctioned by Miss Eva Levy, and played for the first time at the noon dance, October 8, in the gymnasium.

Lead by Jack Crowley, pianist, the five members include Edward Plutte, banjo; Frank Howard, drums; Alton Cohen, saxophone, and Eugene Minzenmayer, trumpet.

Golf Is Becoming Popular on Campus

Due to the increasing interest in the game, Miss Florence Hale's golf class is being invaded by the Collegemen and faculty members. Please do not confuse the golf taught in P. E. 10 with "pee-wee" or "nit-wit" golf, as there is very little similarity in the games.

It is not generally known among the students that the college has six practice booths equipped with mats and stands, and also a neat little putting green. That is—the green would be neat if it were not used as a picnic ground rather frequently.

Miss Hale is assisted by "Ted" Robbins, professional from the Harding Park golf links. Mr. Robbins comes each Tuesday and Thursday afternoon at 4 p. m. to help instruct the class in the intricacies of the pivot, approach, etc.

When sufficient progress has been made, the final lessons will be given on the six-hole practice links at Harding Park.

C. T. Haunts Shops

College Theatre is saving its pennies for the purpose of buying furniture for the stage. For the last play, theatre members haunted the second-hand stores, bringing back to school such treasures as a whatnot, an old-fashioned hat-tree, stools and chairs.

Heretofore, the theatre has always found it necessary to borrow stage properties for its plays; but now it soon hopes to own a varied collection of properties.

Thirty-three juniors and seniors are receiving their practice training in the various public schools around the bay. Of these thirty-three, eight are located at the Horace Mann Junior High, one at Mission High, and one at Jefferson High in San Francisco. There are: one at Niles, two at Prescott Elementary Junior High, and twenty at the Peralta Elementary School in Oakland.

Mr. Sherman L. Brown, principal of the training school, states that due to the transition from the three to the four year course of study, there are more positions than there are girls to fill them.

BOOKANEERS TALK ON SHORT STORIES AT RECENT MEETING

At an interesting meeting of the Bookaneers Club held recently, various forms of short stories were discussed. Chester McGrath, the president, called on many of the twenty members for views as to their experiences with the writing of short stories. A discussion of the value of the plots as well as the true originality of the writer occupied many minutes.

Dr. Elias Arnesen, sponsor, spoke on the constructive aid and the relation of the Bookaneers' Club to the improvement of the work of its members. He suggested that the students try their originality in writing short stories with simple plots, and then later write more developed narratives with complex plots. His talk turned to the optimistic attitude that he wants earnestly the club as a whole to assume. Although this attitude should hold the important place, he believes also that some of the largest literary organizations of the country are very pessimistic in their views, thereby developing a strong sense of criticism.

The group next turned its attention to short briefs on many of our foremost writers of today. Edgar Allen Poe seemed one of the most interesting to the group. The character development in the stories of Conrad was also discussed. However, one of his best sellers was found not to have a plot. With the local color that the discussed writers have injected into their narratives, each made a distinctive study. Miss Dorothy Rankin gave an interesting account of the lives of several of the authors of the past century.

The short story was then planned and discussed. Much inspiration was received by the members of the club, some of whom have written narratives that have attained a remarkable degree of success.

Dame Club Meets

Mrs. Dorris, faculty member of the Dames Club, was the speaker at the meeting of the club held Thursday, October 9, in the College Activities room.

The date for the picnic at Golden Gate Park was set for Saturday, October 18, at eleven o'clock. The children's playground was chosen as the meeting place.

A bridge party is being planned for October 23, to be held at the home of Mrs. Simley, 1835 Anza Street, at seven-thirty o'clock. Those who are planning to attend are asked to sign up on the poster that is up on the bulletin board.

File Applications

Applications for practice teaching should be properly filled out, checked by Miss Vance, and filed at the Recorder's office before October 29, as the three days, October 29, 30, and 31 are the dates set aside by Mr. Brown, Director of Practice Teaching, for personal appointments with all applicants. Appointments cannot be made until after the applications have been properly filed. The Recorder's office therefore requests that all such applications be attended to at once.

The present regime of the Extension Course has been so successful and has furthered so much interest in future courses that plans for the following semester are being developed now by Mr. Alexander Boulware.

The interest of former students has stimulated the increase of new courses that have never been included in the curriculum before.

"How come the lamb hasn't been following you to school, Mary?"

"What! At fifty miles an hour?"

Thelma Rees Wins Co-op Bite'n Chew

And so a third box of candy was won. This time the lucky winner was Thelma Rees, who was the first student to identify correctly the silhouette of Mabel Roberts in the Student Body Book Store's Haas' candy contest.

It was surprising, too, the number of various incorrect names that were submitted. Mr. Marples declared that students kept him informed all afternoon as to who the outlined figure was.

This contest, as stated before, is running for a period of ten weeks in the Bay Leaf and is being sponsored by the Book Store. A box of Haas' "Half and Half" candy is the prize each week.

Directors Clog

Miss Sarah Scott of the physical education department is giving a series of lessons in clog dancing to the women directors of the San Francisco Playground Department. The class meets each Tuesday at 10 a. m., at the Recreation club, Sacramento and Fillmore streets.

The Curriculum Committee of S. T. C. met recently for the purpose of electing new officers for this year.

Dr. P. F. Valentine, Professor of Education and chairman of this committee last year, called the meeting to order. Dr. Valentine was re-elected chairman for the coming semester. Miss Mary Louise Kleinecke, Assistant Professor of English, was elected secretary.

DINNER IS HELD BY BOARD OF CONTROL

The largest joint dinner ever held under the auspices of the Bay Leaf Board of Control and the Bay Leaf Staff took place last Wednesday evening, October 1, in the banquet room of the Clinton Cafeteria. It is customary for the board to have at least two dinners a semester.

During the course of the dinner, Webster Allen, financial manager of the paper, gave a complete financial report. Mrs. T. H. Ellsworth, Journalism instructor; Betty Fiske, editor; and Miss Cecelia Anderson, advisor of the board, gave interesting talks.

Pledges Honored

Peanuts and jelly beans carried out the Mother Goose theme at the luncheon given by Phi Lambda Chi in the cafeteria, Tuesday, October 7, in honor of the pledges.

All the members wore bibs. This brought back memories of the corner candy store and "a penny's worth o' jelly beans." Evelyn Rafter, with the aid of an efficient committee, planned the affair.

P. T. A. Meets

A successful meeting was held by the Frederic Burk P. T. A. recently. Miss Grace Carter, chairman, introduced the following supervisors to the members: Miss Marion Barbour, Miss Alice Allcutt, Miss Lilian Talbert, Miss Cecilia Anderson, Mrs. Jessie Billingsley, Miss E. C. Burkholder, Mrs. E. A. Spozio, and Miss Hermine Henze.

Delta Phi Upsilon Plans Social

Affair will be given on October 24, at Sorority House

DANCE PLANNED BY T. C. CLUB MEMBERS

Plans are under way for a dance to be given by the Delta Phi Upsilon, kindergarten primary fraternity, on October 24, at the Phi Lambda Chi house. The purpose of the dance is to raise money for the National Convention to be held next summer.

Last summer, the National Convention was held at Hermosa Beach in the home of Winona Stevens, one of the founders of the organization. Six members of Epsilon Chapter attended the convention.

Three new members were initiated at the last meeting. New members are: Marjory Thompson, Helen Richardson and Gertrude Olsson.

Dean Gives Talk

Educator Speaks To Faculty Club

"Germany's school children are learning history and nature study through first hand experiences," stated Miss Marion B. Barbour, at a luncheon of the faculty reading club, September 19 at the Haight Street Tearoom. Kindergarten-primary student-teachers and the Education 350 class were present, with Miss Hermine Henze, children's librarian, acting as chairman.

Having recently returned from a summer abroad, Miss Barbour told of the country inns for traveling students of the higher primary grades, whose expeditions were of a month duration, and covered many famous historical localities.

Younger children of the community are taken on day excursions, not only for their school work, but for their health.

FACULTY MEMBER ENROLLS FOR GOLF

Miss Hilda Holmes, psychology instructor, is taking up golf. She is enrolled in Miss Florence Hale's golf class and promises to be a great golfer some day soon.

Miss Holmes claims that there is a new sin in the calendar of sinners. She is taught that if she "tops" the ball, she won't go to heaven. And while trying to gain admittance to heaven, Miss Holmes digs up most of the turf.

Mid-terms will close October 17, and reports will be mailed to students by the Recorder's office during the week of October 20.

Men's Club Forms New Constitution

After several weeks of heated argument and animated discussion, the Men's Club of S. T. C. finally passed, on Monday, October 6, the constitution, which was submitted by a committee detailed to its formation.

Several members were active in changing the original draft of the constitution to a more agreeable form. Outstanding among these were James Beckwith and John Nash.

Every meeting of the new organization has featured a great deal of discussion on the question brought before the house. The acceptance or rejection of the sponsorship of the noon-time dances was brought up at the last meeting and is at present under consideration.

Membership Drive On

Due to the success of its membership drive, the Siena Club is planning a second initiation to be held on the afternoon of October 20, at the Siena House.

Approximately thirty more students are expected to join the club. This will increase the number of new members from forty to seventy.

The campaign for new members is to be followed by a drive for the immediate payment of dues.

DEBATING SOCIETY CHOOSES SPEAKERS

Delta Sigma, the college debating society chose, Monday, October 6, at 12 o'clock, in the activities room, six students to act as members of a varsity team. The judges, who were Miss Eileen McCall, music instructor; Mrs. Anna Dorris, social science instructor, chose the following:

The meeting was presided over by Alice Heim, president. The speakers were privilged to choose either of the following questions:

First, that the youth of today are tending toward atheism; second, that the present age is too materialistic.

Miss Ruth Richards, sponsor of the organization, also was present. Those who spoke were Alice Heim, Phyllis Haley, Dorothy Doelker, Ethel Newton, Corinne Boylan, Lenore McCrystle, Beatrice Harms, Walter Hough, Walter Miles, Everett O'Rourke, and James Stinchcomb.

ART CLUB PLANS TO MEET HIKING CLUB

Meetings of the Art Club will be held hereafter every Thursday at 12.30 in room 109. This date was decided upon by members of the club at their last meeting.

Plans for a hike soon are to be discussed at a joint meeting of the Art Club and Hiking Club.
